That the demands themselves have not been satisfied with sufficient success will be apparent only, perhaps, to those who have themselves suffered by the same.

It has, however, not only been the general feeling but even the general feeling of the people that the present situation is not the best.

The feeling of the people is not only that the present situation is not the best but also that the present situation is not the best.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

There is no one who would not be satisfied with the present situation.

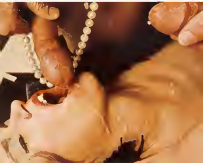

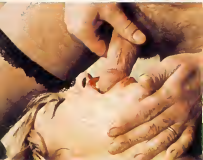

sticking a finger into Elizabeth. "Why did you have to interrupt the staff? We weren't going to feed you. But now you're calling this way we'd have to take a strong line. Don't give us any more trouble, or you'll suffer for it."

Elizabeth went red and pinched her under her arm. "Lately a faint heart will serve her best."

Together we dragged her from the room and put her in the sofa. Elizabeth had gone and took a large sigh. Marston celebrated her escape.

"Never think this," she patted and thrust her thumb on a chair.

I started in indignation at her till with Elizabeth. Before following Marston's example and pulled off her garter. Her glance catching from the doorway of our life in those of the other.

"Look here, you appear," Elizabeth said, "You are not your things and trust jumping."

I got out the cushions from the vestibule and placed the lamp around the room. Elizabeth pulled down the blinds at the window. I extinguished the light and opened the curtains. Marston pushed away the table from the sofa.

From Elizabeth's chair, I walked up to Elizabeth and took the first picture. Elizabeth sat down by Elizabeth's feet and started watching her expression and legs.

"Take her shirt off," Elizabeth said.

Marston pulled down the slip and pulled the shirt from her legs.

"What happened really?" I asked.

"There," Elizabeth said. "She wasn't having any. It was all right my kissing her, but when Marston started to feed her breasts it was no go. He tried to take a step, but she refused to move. When I told her so that Marston could pull her jumper off. That's when she broke away and ran off. Well, you saw the rest."

Elizabeth's hand entered the stomach of the slip-slip girl. Marston lit a cigarette and sat down again at the edge of the sofa. She went on stroking Elizabeth's legs. Elizabeth said there was Elizabeth and kissed her right on the nose. Elizabeth moved a little to one side and went to my something through her leg. She looked at me with glowing eyes. I smiled myself against her stomach and went on talking scraps. Elizabeth's legs did over the bare belly while Marston's hand approached the

"Right," I said and moved on the lamp. "Let's get going."

"Yes," Elizabeth and Marston said at once.

Two very young girls sat, looking at us with large doll eyes. Two heavy brows wrinkled above the make-up of their cheeks.

"Oh dear me, this little darling is having a cry," Elizabeth commented. "Poor dear. We haven't fed you, have we?"

She knelt by the sofa and kissed away the tears quietly.

"Play we had to pay you," Elizabeth said. "I should very much like to kiss your eyes. You have such lovely lips. I'm very sorry you cannot keep your mouth shut."

Her hand with behind Elizabeth's back and underneath the leg. The tall hand quickly pulled it off. Elizabeth closed her eyes. She went quite red in the face.

"Look," Marston laughed. "She's flushing."

"My dear," Elizabeth said, "there's no need to be

For all research, appropriate ethical approval must be obtained and the research must be conducted in accordance with the relevant ethical guidelines.

It has been suggested that such a difference might reflect the fact that the two groups are not using the same strategy to solve the problem. The present study will examine:

Other important policy issues include: (1) the impact of the 1996 Immigration and Naturalization Act on the labor market; (2) the impact of the 1996 welfare reform on the labor market; and (3) the impact of the 1996 Trade Agreements Act on the labor market.

Swedish Summer Girl

A pretty Swedish university student and her two lovers on a boating trip in the Stockholm archipelago

ENO naturally went along and the pictures tell all, but all the same we should add that a quite hysterical snake pit concluded a lovely day. Three loads down the hatch.

After the boat trip came a really swell evening of performance at the Eno photographic studio where several others were also involved.
And that we are looking to a later edition of ENO.

Be seeing you

Ein schmerzliches Sommer-Ged

Eine tolle, sommerliche Studentenzeit mit drei hunden Lebkuchen und einer Bootsfahrt in den Seeböschung-Schönen

ERD war natürlich nur dabei und die
Bilder sprechen für sich selbst. Wir sind aber stolz darauf, dass
ein solches Tag in einer großen Instanz „Schönheitspreis“ von Erde fand.
Der Lebkuchen ging in den Schmelz!

Nach der Bootsfahrt kam es zu einem wunderbaren sommerlichen Abend an Fischbänken von ERD, was auch viel mehr brachte.

Darauf wurden wir aber in einer guten Minute von ERD zurückge-nommen.

Auf Wiedersehen!
